MOVIES WILL ENTERTAIN THE CORN CLUB BOYS

Homes for About 75 More Boys Needed, Says Committee

An interesting development in the entertainment of the corn show boys next week is the extension of the courtesy of several moving picture theaters free of charge.

Arthur S. Hyman, manager of the Grand Opera house, Edwin Brown, manager of the Vaudeville at 74 Whitehall street; R. H. Deliber, manager of the Monticomey at 87 Peachtree street; and G. Holmbeck, manager of the Strand on Peachtree street, have offered their shows to the boys during their stay in Atlanta. The boys will be provided with tickets of identification by the chamber of commerce, so that all that they will have to do to enter the theaters is to show their tickets.

Walter G. Cooper, secretary of the chamber, desires to make public expression of the thanks of the chamber to the managers of the theaters for the extension of the valued courtesy.

Up to Friday morning, homes for 124 boys had been offered by the citizens of the city and suburbs. Accommodations for about seventy-five more are needed, and it is urged that citizens send word or telephone to the chamber of commerce stating how many boys can be taken.

The following is a list of those taking boys since the list was published: Mrs. Gibson, at Hotel Winscott, 2 boys; Ames Johnston, 223 North Peachtree street; Charles E. Stead, 201 7th avenue; E. F. Fincher, Jr., 411 1/2 East Merritt avenue; Fred Saunders, 5 Scott street, Kirkwood; Helen Hudson, 99 Deloet avenue, Campbell View; Lawrence Caldwell, East Boulevard and Hawthorne avenue, College Park; Mrs. C. T. Turner, 102 Joyce de Leon avenue; J. B. Lockart, 11 Catherine street; Mrs. W. M. Crum, 15 Peachtree Circle; Mrs. Fred W. Cole, 222 West Peachtree street; Mrs. W. Woods White, 22 Howard street.

FRIEND RESCUE MISSION FEEDS THE UNEMPLOYED

The hungry and unemployed on Decatur street were feasted on turkey and chicken Thanksgiving day by the Friend Rescue mission at 48 Decatur street.

The special dinner was provided largely through the efforts of J. Clyde Chum, who advanced the first dollar in the founding of the mission two years ago.

Under the superintendence of Rev. E. H. Gill, the mission in two years has grown to be the largest in the south and is caring for forty to fifty men and women every day.

McMillan Boy Improves

Joseph McMillan, now sixteen, of 112 Union street, is resting easily at the Danforth hospital, where he has been following a recent accident in which, it is said, he was run down by a motor truck at the corner of Peachtree and North avenue. McMillan was riding a bicycle at the time.

Negro Is Killed

Frank Moreland, a negro, shot and killed another negro, whose name the police could not learn, at Butler and Oak streets Thursday afternoon. Moreland claims he acted in self defense. The shooting occurred on the street.

SPONSORS FOR GEORGIA TECH Thanksgiving day were Miss Alline Fielder, of Atlanta, on the left; Miss Virginia Fielder, of Columbus, in the center, and Miss Susie Hatcher, of Atlanta, on the right. They formed one of the most attractive trios at the game, which was attended by the largest crowd that ever saw Tech and Clemson play in Atlanta.

MRS. MARY A. GARRETT DIED FRIDAY MORNING

Funeral Will Be Held From Washington Street Residence Saturday P. M.

Mrs. Mary A. Garrett, one of the best known of Atlanta's older residents, died at her residence on Washington street, Friday morning at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Garrett, who was a daughter of Dr. George Wallace, a well known planter of Dougherty county, was the widow of Captain W. J. Garrett, once a well known figure in the business life of the state. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Emma Garrett Boyd and Mrs. Estelle Garrett Baker and by two little grandsons, Spencer Wallace Boyd and William Garrett Burckle, the latter living in Asheville.

Mrs. Garrett's death followed a long illness lasting nearly a year and because of the beautiful tributes of flowers that constantly filled her room and of the suffering now caused by the war that further tributes might alleviate, her family ask that friends will kindly omit further offerings of flowers.

William Burckle, her son-in-law of Asheville; Miss Mary Burckle, and little Garrett Burckle will arrive in the city Saturday; and the funeral services will be conducted by Rev. John E. White from the residence at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

NO CAMPAIGN PLANNED AGAINST LOCKER CLUBS

Anti-Saloon League Head Says
No Fight on Them Is Contemplated Now

No campaign against locker clubs in Atlanta is contemplated for the present, says W. W. Hochberger, superintendent of the Georgia Anti-Saloon League.

Hochberger explains the fact that he furnished the solicitor general's office with certified copies of revenue laws on which bills were drawn against six well known clubs last week, to say that the certificates had been turned in to the state for over a year, when a gentleman whose name he refused to divulge, telephoned him and asked him to put them in the hands of the solicitor, and he did so, but without the idea of inaugurating any campaign in behalf of the Anti-Saloon League.

"I do not mean to say that I approve the locker club system," says Mr. Hochberger, "but I simply do not think it is the right time to present a campaign against them in Atlanta."

PAWNBROKER HELD FOR ASSAULTING DETECTIVE

L. Miller and Morris Miller
Face Recorder Following
Row With Officer

After a hearing before Recorder James Friday morning, L. Miller and Morris Miller, pawnbrokers, 220 Market street, were each fined $50 and costs for interfering with an officer. In addition, L. Miller was bound over to the grand jury charged with assault and battery.

Miller was accused of striking Detective E. F. Davis Saturday night after the latter had arrested him for the possession of a pin pawned in the shop. Miller was charged with using the detective's arm from behind and holding him while the other Miller struck him.

Both Millers, who are brothers, testified that Detective Davis struck them and used a "bully."

Chief Deavers, Chief Sanford, Detective Davis, Cook and Wiley were present at the trial, with Detective Wiley acting as attorney for the prosecution.

BAPTIST TABERNACLE
TO CALL NEW PASTOR

Committee Will Announce
Name of Pastor to Be Called Sunday

The full membership of the Baptist Tabernacle was urged to be present at the Sunday morning services when a new pastor will be called. The committee consists of A. E. Edwards, Dr. William Jones and Dr. Joseph Broughton, who will present the name of one of the leading Baptist ministers of the United States who is well and favorably known to the society.

The Baptist Tabernacle has been without a pastor for sometime, the former pastor, Dr. Lincoln McConnel, having resigned several weeks ago to devote full time to his lectures and evangelistic work. An effort was made to secure for Len G. Broughton, the pastor of the Tabernacle and at present pastor of Christ church in London, but the congregation felt that the war in Europe made it his duty to continue his work in England.

"TUBERCULOSIS DAY" TO BE OBSERVED SUNDAY

Leaders in Fight on "White Plague" Will Speak in Local Churches

"Tuberculosis day" will be observed in Atlanta churches Sunday and leaders in the nation-wide fight against the white plague will deliver addresses in the city. These leaders will tell of the measures prescribed for the prevention of the disease which is making alarming ravages in this country.

Dr. George M. Kover, president of the national association, will speak Sunday afternoon at the auditorium. Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, of Philadelphia, general secretary of the national body, will address the morning service at the North Avenue Baptist church. Dr. Charles L. Miner, of Asheville, N. C., will speak in the morning at Wesley Memorial church. Dr. Philip P. Jacobs, secretary of the national body, will be the speaker at the morning service in the First Baptist church. Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, head of the Association for Improvement of the Condition of the Poor, New York, will speak in the evening at St. Mark's Episcopal church.

According to the Atlanta branch of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis there are in Georgia 27,000 persons afflicted with the disease which last year claimed 6,310 victims in this state. The statistics gathered by this organization show that in the city of Atlanta alone there are 3,000 individuals with tuberculosis and that last year there were 325 deaths from it in the city.

In many of the churches Sunday collections will be taken to aid the association in its work.

NORTH CAROLINA SOCIETY WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Members Will Meet in Chamber of Commerce Friday Afternoon

A meeting of the North Carolina society will be held at the Chamber of Commerce hall at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Officers will be elected for the ensuing year, arrangements will be made for the annual banquet to be given some time in December, and plans will be formulated for the inauguration of a series of annual balls.

The membership of the society is between 400 and 500. Membership is open to all white persons living in Georgia who were born or reared in North Carolina, or who have lived in North Carolina for any considerable length of time, or either of whose parents were North Carolinians.

The present officers of the society are as follows:

President, Rev. John E. White; vice president, Lindsey Hopkins; secretary, T. R. Hight; treasurer, Dr. E. G. Ballinger; trustees, W. B. Carlton, W. J. Lowenstein, and J. H. Lewis.

MAN WHO TOOK CARBOLIC IS RECOVERING AT GRADY

Letter From Wife in Birmingham Indicated Man Was Despondent

Claud K. Edison, of 214 Lee street, is at the Grady hospital recovering from the effects of a dose of carbolic acid, which he drank while standing on Poplar street, near the postoffice, about 11 o'clock Thursday night.

Edison's face and mouth were badly burned, but passersby found him and called the Grady hospital in time to save his life.

A letter from his wife in Birmingham, found in his pockets, furnished a probable cause for his despondency. In the letter Mrs. Lillie Edison, of 1808 Avenue E. South, wrote she had lived up to my promise so far, and will if you send me money. Beneath the words the despondent husband had written "No encouragement."

Mrs. Ola Haire Dies
ABBEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Ola Haire, wife of P. L. Haire, a prominent merchant of Abbeville, is dead here. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reid, of this place. She leaves besides her mother and father, one brother, Homer Reid, her husband and five children.

MORMON CHURCH HEAD TO TALK IN ATLANTA

Joseph F. Smith and Party
Stop in Atlanta for Day

Traveling in a private car furnished him by the Union Pacific railroad, at which he is a director, Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, officially called the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, arrived in Atlanta Friday morning and will deliver a lecture Friday evening in Taft hall.

With him are his wife and his daughter, Miss Emily Smith, and the following officials of the church:

Charles W. Penrose, second counselor in the presidency of the church, and Mrs. Penrose; George Albert Smith, one of the twelve apostles of the church; Joseph F. Smith, Jr., one of the church's apostles; Bishop Charles W. Nibley, president of the church in Chattanooga, and Mrs. Nibley.

The church has a branch in Atlanta which is now preparing to erect a new house of worship. The plans of this house were submitted to President Smith and his party Friday morning in the car by Charles A. Callis, of Chattanooga, president of the southern states division of the church.

BELGIAN IMMIGRATION MOVEMENT PROTESTED

Atlanta Federation of Trades Sees "Greed and Selfishness" Back of Plan

Resolutions protesting against the movement to bring Belgian immigrants to Georgia were passed at the annual session of the Atlanta Federation of Trades. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, there has been launched in Georgia what is known as the Belgian immigration movement, the purpose of which is to induce Belgian refugees to immigrate and settle in Georgia, and whereas, the promoters of this movement claim the motive actuating their efforts is commercial, industrial and humanitarian, and

"Whereas, we know it increases the army of unemployed, which is greater in the history of the state and the numbers are constantly increasing, and whereas, if the same inducements now proposed to foreigners were offered to Georgians the need of sending to foreign countries for help would be minimized if not entirely eliminated, and the great army of unemployed would be materially reduced, thereby making wages and the desire for better and happier for the workers of the city, and

"Whereas, past experience forces us to believe that underlying this heralded philanthropic movement is selfishness, greed and avarice, and the desire for helping the homeless Belgians is only a secondary consideration, should this movement be successful the influx of foreign immigrants will become a serious menace to the workers of Georgia, thousands of whom are now out of work, by developing more competition, reducing wages and forcing the workers to accept lower wages, and

"Resolved by the Atlanta Federation of Trades, in regular session assembled, to most emphatically and vehemently protest against any movement launched for the purpose of bringing colonies of Belgians or any other nationality to Georgia, while there are workers in the state destitute of work and cannot secure it, and that we use all the influence at our command to prevent any move in this direction.

"Atlanta, Ga., November 25, 1914."

NEGRO THIEF SENTENCED ON SCENE OF CRIME

Will Trenchard, a negro, was found guilty in the criminal division of superior court Friday of stealing $30 worth of property from a store in the court room not ten feet from the place he was heard to brag that he would steal in twelve months in the county changing with the alternative of a $250 fine.

Trenchard was working as a helper on the new Pullman building, a few months ago, and it is alleged he stole the tools belonging to the contractor, one of the carpenters. Trenchard visited the scene of his crime again Thursday, with the result above stated.

PRESIDENT MAY STOP OVER IN NEW YORK

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 27.—President Wilson planned to leave here this afternoon for Washington. He may, however, stop over in New York Saturday and Sunday to visit his friend, Colonel E. M. House. Mr. Wilson called on President Garfield, of Williams college, this morning for a brief visit and later began work on some correspondence.

COUNTY POLICEMAN SHOT IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Wounded Negro Suspect Held
Says He Can Prove an Alibi

County Policeman L. F. Peek is in a serious condition at Grady hospital as a result of a bullet wound inflicted by a negro Thursday night when the officer approached him to make inquiries about the shooting of a negro. The negro was held and is now in the custody of the police.

A negro, Lewis Jones, twenty-nine years of age, Cunningham street, was brought to the Grady hospital Thursday night a few hours after the officer was shot to have a wound dressed. The officer, who was at the bedside of the wounded officer, placed the negro under arrest, on suspicion. Jones denies that he shot the policeman, and claims as an alibi that he was shot while attending a Thanksgiving festival in an entirely different part of the county.

At 2 o'clock Friday afternoon Officer Peek had rallied and there was said to be hope for his recovery.

The negro's bullet entered the officer's left side and penetrated the abdomen. Peek was conscious long enough for the negro to be brought to his bed side. After looking at the black, the officer said, "That's the man who shot me."

After a second look he added, "I'm not dead, but I think that's the man." Peek was shot in the chest and the bullet entered the automobile of M. C. Stephens, 10 Produce way, and rushed to the hospital. He was taken to the hospital, where he was held for investigation.

"One shot had been fired among the negroes, who had collected at the barbers and that attracted the attention of Officer J. T. Carter and myself, so we went to the scene."

"Carter was seventy-five yards or more from me, when I dismounted from my horse and went up to a negro, whom I suspected of having fired the shot. 'Who did that shooting?' I asked the negro."

"Then without the slightest provocation other than the simple question, the man jerked an ugly-looking revolver from his pocket and fired on me. 'I was taken completely by surprise and he had fired a second time before I could get my revolver out. I am not sure who shot him, but we fired five shots at each other.'"

While Mr. Peek did not think he hit the negro, the other officers were of opinion that the pistol shot of his shots was effective, for that reason they took the negro Jones into custody, when he appeared at the hospital, suffering with a gun shot wound.

The shooting is thirty-three years of age, and is a bridge-iron of only five weeks. Mr. Peek, who was Miss Frontie Brooks, of Palmetto, was at home with the officers' family when the shooting occurred, and he learned of the shooting. Peek whose home is only half a mile from the scene of the shooting, was called by his family only a few minutes before the shooting occurred. He called to investigate the trouble at the barbers.

A Hint for Coming Maternity

In a little book designed for expectant mothers more complete instruction is given than in the use of "Mother's Friend."

This is an external massage applied to the abdominal muscles for the purpose of relieving the strain of pregnancy, and tends to ease the mind, indirectly having a beneficial effect on the nervous system and thousands of women have been brought to the birth of healthy babies with no morbid anxiety or worry.

"Mother's Friend" has been prepared in the laboratory of Bradford Regulator Co., 204 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for more than two generations and can be had almost anywhere from coast to coast. Write today for the little book.

THEATERS

While "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which began a three days' stay at the Atlanta with a Thanksgiving matinee, is not the equal of the production in which Charlotte Walker played here two years ago, a large audience greeted it opening night and stamped it with emphatic approval.

The road company which presents it here is a good one. The members are not too dramatic at the tension pitch nor too tragic when tragedy approaches. They are genuine. Eleanor Montell in the role of June, and Edward Walker as John Hale play their parts with little to be desired.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" gives opportunity for such scenic spectacles as few plays offer. In the cramped stage space allowed, the breadth and sweep of the Virginia wilderness have been pictured with artistic attention to detail and general effect.

The play will be here again Friday and Saturday nights, with Saturday matinee.

"The Pekin Mystery," one of the feature acts at the Fox this week, introduces the famous Chinese magician, Han Ping Chien, and a company of Chinese entertainers who present one of the most interesting novelty features that has been seen here in vaudeville.

Next week's bill will have for a feature "A Primrose and a Rose," a company of pretty girls who will present a pretty comedy playlet with specialities.

Primrose and Wilson all-prominent company of burnt cork celebrities, is scheduled to appear at the Atlanta Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Matinees will be given Wednesday and Thursday. Seats are on sale now.

The sale of seats for the opening of the Bijou with the new stock company commenced Thursday. It is quite evident that unusual interest is being manifested in this new company. Managers have been selected on an exclusive basis to give a finished and complete performance. The first play to be offered will be "The Whirlpool," a western drama with not too much of the sensational but just enough to hold the interest, and one that will appeal especially to lovers of the Rite drama. Between the acts four very clever vaudeville acts will be introduced, and the performance as a whole promises to be unusually interesting. The usual prices of 10, 20 and 30 cents will be charged, and matinees will be given daily. Monday night ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by an escort holding a paid 30-cent ticket.

WHITE BOY ADMITS STEALING 13 AUTOS

Millard Williams, a seventeen-year-old white boy, arrested several weeks ago by Lieutenant Hines and Officer Haynie, of the county police, when returning from a charge of larceny, superior court on a charge of larceny, told Judge Held that in a few months he stole thirteen automobiles in which he took short joy rides.

Judge Held imposed a sentence of twelve months in each of three cases.

YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED AT THANKSGIVING SERVICE

College Park people attending the Thanksgiving service at the Presbyterian church Thursday night were surprised at the conclusion of the benediction when Rev. Fritz Rauschenberg, the pastor, asked the congregation to remain seated while a marriage ceremony was performed.

Then the organist struck up the wedding march, and Miss Willie Hagan, of 135 Nelson street, and Dr. W. T. Perry, of the Perry-Lewis drug company, marched down the aisle to the altar, where they were married. The young couple, with Mr. and Mrs. Hagan, Robert and Charles A. Bell, had gone to Dr. Rauschenberg during the service and asked him to wed them at its close. The marriage was a surprise to all their friends.

RESINOL CURED AWFUL ITCHING IN ONE NIGHT

New York.—The skin on my hand got red and rough. It itched and I began to scratch it. It itched so that sometimes I could not sleep all night. I was suffering very much. I used Resinol and —, but they did not seem to help me. This went on for six or seven months. Then I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. I used them one night. In the morning, to my surprise, my hand was all well and the trouble has never returned. This is the absolute truth.—(Signed) Miss Clara Kleinman, 61 Columbia St., April 26.

Nothing we can say of Resinol equals what others, such as Miss Kleinman, say of it. It does its work quickly, easily and at little cost. If you are suffering from itching, burning skin troubles, pimples, dandruff, ulcers, boils, stabs, sores, or piles, try Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Sold by all druggists.—(Adv.)

RABBIT HUNT IS TURNED INTO CHASE FOR BURGLAR

Youth, Who Admits Robbing Roy Tuggle's Home, Is Captured by Citizens

A party of hunters who had been chasing the elusive rabbit all Thanksgiving day, returned tired and hungry to the residence of Roy Tuggle, one mile beyond Wallage station, about 5 o'clock, and soon turned their attention from the rabbit to a burglar.

They heard a crash as they drove into the front yard, but thought one of the dogs had knocked over a can. Later Mr. Tuggle discovered his home had been burglarized.

The chase then started, the hunters using the telephone as well as their horses, with the result that an hour later, J. B. Yokum, a youth who says he hails from Kentucky, was captured by citizens.

Lieutenant Chesire and Officer Hagan, of the county police, took charge of Yokum and relieved him of several suits of clothing and a gold signet ring which were identified by Mr. Tuggle. They also found $11.65, which the man admitted, according to Lieutenant Chesire, that he stole from the Tuggle home. Yokum was captured at Minor's station, five miles from the scene of the burglary.

SAYS ZEEBRUGGE ATTACK CAUSED LITTLE DAMAGE

Reports of Havoc Caused by British Bombardment Are Denied

(By Associated Press.) BRUGES, Belgium, via Shice, Holland, Nov. 27.—A dispatch from Zeebrugge, on the Belgian coast about fifteen miles east of Ostend, shows that the British attack on the German submarine base of November 23 did very little damage. The British ships destroyed two fishermen's houses on one of the dikes.

The British ships fired many shells which did not explode into the fields between Heyst and Zeebrugge. They knocked down the chimney of one factory, and one person was mortally wounded. The harbor and the town of Zeebrugge, which are occupied by the Germans, are today all in perfect working order.

New Details Given of Attack on Zeebrugge

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Some new details of the bombardment of Zeebrugge, which the Germans were preparing as a naval base, have reached this city.

The correspondent of the Express on the Belgian coast of Flanders, which the British warships on Tuesday night attacked, reports that the first shells thrown by the British warships on Tuesday night among the German submarines in the inner harbor. After twenty minutes the British warships were firing at the German submarines. The British ships had been killed or wounded a dash for safety to the English channel and try to run the gauntlet of the fleet.

"Some of the submarines returned to Zeebrugge," the correspondent laconically remarks, and he adds that the fate of the rest is unknown.

Describing the bombardment the correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The German submarines, lying in the harbor basin hid themselves below during the bombardment to prevent their destruction. When the shells refracted they rose again and went in pursuit but soon returned."

No 'Decisive Engagements' in Poland, Says Berlin

(By Associated Press.) BERLIN, Nov. 27.—(By Wireless to London)—An official announcement from Berlin today says:

"English ships did not attack the coast of Flanders again yesterday. There have been no actual changes along the battle front in the western arena. To the north of Lanemarck we have taken a group of houses and made a number of prisoners."

"Our attack in the Argonne region has made further progress. French attacks in the neighborhood of Apremont and to the east of St. Mihiel were repulsed."

"In the eastern arena of the war there were no decisive engagements yesterday."

No Result in Poland; Victory in Galicia, Austrians Claim
BERLIN, Nov. 27.—An official report issued in Vienna says:

"The fighting in Russian Poland has assumed the proportions of a continuous battle. In the Carpathian mountains the Russian troops have repulsed the Austrians. The progress has been made in the fighting in the Carpathians."

"Near the Kolubara river, in Serbia, the enemy's center is in a very strong position near Lazarevatz, but we attacked and took 1,000 prisoners, three guns, four ammunition wagons and three machine guns. To the south of Ljubi (7) we took the eastern heights and 300 prisoners. From Vukovar our troops have advanced to Kordofev."

Germans Repulsed on Yser, Says French Official Note
PARIS, Nov. 27.—The French war office gave out an official announcement this afternoon as follows:

"The slackening of the artillery fire of the enemy was noted all along the line during the day of November 26. Two infantry attacks directed against the series of bridges, which we had thrown down on the right bank of the Yser, to the south of Dixmude, were easily repulsed."

"There was no other engagement on the rest of the front in Belgium and as far as the Oise, nor was there any action on the Aisne or in Champagne. Nevertheless Rheims was rather violently bombarded during the time that a number of journalists from neutral countries were making a visit to the city."

"In the Argonne some infantry attacks resulted in the loss and then recapture of certain trenches. The men engaged in this fighting never exceeded a battalion. The ground lost and then retaken was never more than twenty-five yards."

"Along the heights of the Meuse and in the Vosges there is nothing to report."

Diplomatic Dispatches Tell of Victory for Austrians
(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Austrian successes over the Russian offensives in the Carpathians and in western Galicia were reported today in a foreign office dispatch to the Austro-Hungarian embassy, which says:

"Renewed Russian attempts to break through the defenses in the Carpathians in the two districts of King and Zemplin were repulsed with great losses. In western Galicia our troops repulsed the Russian forces which were advancing toward the lower Danube."

BONDHOLDERS OF TURKEY MUST CALL FOR INTEREST
Payment on 1908 Loan Will Be Made Only to Those Who Come for It

(By Associated Press.) AMSTERDAM, Holland, Nov. 27.—(By Associated Press.)—A dispatch from Constantinople says it has been officially announced that by the minister of finance that the interest on the loan of 1908 will be paid only to such bondholders as present themselves at the central office of the ministry of finance there.

The Constantinople announcement refers to a loan of 150,000,000 francs ($21,500,000) issued at 4 per cent in 1908. Interest is payable semi-annually the next payment being due December 14. The action of the Turkish finance minister means interest payments probably will be suspended on the bulk of these loans which are held abroad, as these owners would find it impracticable or in view of the war almost impossible to go to Constantinople to make collections.

Of this loan $10,000,000 was taken in London by Morgan & Co., the London bank of J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York, and by the Imperial Ottoman bank of London. Most of the remainder was placed in France, although some of these bonds were marketed in Germany.

Child's Life Saved As Car Stops Within Six Inches of Body

A little two-year-old boy baby which toddled directly into the pathway of a car on the river line at noon Friday, came within six inches of death beneath the wheels and was saved only by the quick action of a neighbor, Mrs. Amanda Keheley, who ran out and flagged the motorman, who had not seen the child.

The child was the little son of Mrs. M. T. Tolinger, who lives just on the Atlanta side of the Riverside station on the river line. With several other boys and girls, the little fellow was playing quietly in the front yard, while his mother was doing some housework in the house.

Unknown to the other children, the youngster wandered out toward the car tracks. Clad in his rompers, the same color as the gravel between the tracks, he was practically invisible when the big car swung around the curve and bore down at a good rate of speed.

Then Mrs. Keheley, sitting on her veranda across the street, saw the boy. She ran frantically toward the tracks, waving her arms and began to put on brakes. Then she saw the child. With a shriek and a shout, she ran to the dead stop only three inches from the boy, as he lay on the ground.

Dr. T. J. Morse, of Riverside, was called by the doctor to examine the child. He had not been so much as scratched.

Mrs. Tolinger, coming out of the house to see what the excitement was about, fell into hysterics when she was told, and for awhile needed a physician's care far more than her small son.

BURGLAR GETS JEWELRY AT KERSKOVITZ HOME

A diamond robbery which bore the earmarks of professionals was reported to the police Friday by Albert Herskovitz, an attorney in the Hurt building.

While Mrs. Herskovitz was away from her home, 422 Glenn street, late Thursday afternoon attending a Thanksgiving reception, burglars entered the year of the house with a skeleton key. When Mrs. Herskovitz returned after only half an hour's absence, she found the house had been looted on the inside by the thieves.

She entered after great difficulty, to find the house ransacked. The burglars had also fallen into hysterics when she was told, and for awhile needed a physician's care far more than her small son.

Among the missing articles was a valuable diamond ring, an heirloom.

BAD WEATHER IN SIGHT FOR ARMY-NAVY GAME

Rival Teams Reach Philadelphia and Work Out on Franklin Field

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—The Army and Navy football teams arrived here today at noon and were warmly greeted by enthusiastic supporters at their respective headquarters. After the respective headquarters, the two teams went to Franklin field where the first team spent nearly two hours going through drills.

After the Army left the gridiron the Navy contingent used the field for the same purpose.

Weather predictions today indicate that atmospheric conditions tomorrow. The present summer-like temperature is expected to be succeeded by cold, unsettled weather with probably rain Saturday afternoon.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

It's not enough to simply know what to do or not to do. It's doing or not doing it. That good or evil brings to you.

Sammy Jay always had known this but he never realized how very true it is until he heard Old Man Coyote's story of the time that a little mouse had been caught in a trap and taken away against his will. It was hard work for Sammy to believe that, for hadn't he been caught in a trap and taken away against his will. It was hard work for Sammy to believe that, for hadn't he been caught in a trap and taken away against his will. It was hard work for Sammy to believe that, for hadn't he been caught in a trap and taken away against his will.

Old Man Coyote said right away how hard it was for Sammy to believe that that was true. It flattered him. Like most people, he enjoyed having his neighbors think him smart. But some-thing inside him urged him to tell Sammy the truth, even though it hurt him to believe that, for hadn't he been caught in a trap and taken away against his will.

"I was careless," said he. "I knew about traps. Yes, sir, I knew almost as much about them as I do now, but I was careless. And that goes to show that it isn't always how much we know, but what we make of what we know. My mother had taught me all about traps. She had taken me where they were set and showed me just how to find them and dig them out without getting caught. We used to do it just for fun, and then one day that was left there. I was young then and strong-headed. It was a bad thing to be strong-headed." Old Man Coyote shook his head mournfully.

"After a while I thought I knew it all," he continued, "and that I hadn't anything to learn. Having learned all about traps, excepting how they fell, and that I had no desire to know." Old Man Coyote grinned as he said this. "I wasn't afraid of them, and used to go to the man who set them. The more he tried to catch me the more I laughed at him. I could always tell when he had a gun, and I knew just how far it would shoot. When he had that with him I kept out of his way, but when he didn't have it with him I used to just barely get out of his way."

"Then one day he came after me with a dog, a dog with the longest, slimmest legs I ever did see. My how that dog could run! I had thought I could run faster than anybody else, but when that dog started after me I began to think that I couldn't run at all. Not that I was afraid. Oh, my, no! I wanted was to get beyond the reach of that terrible gun and then I would take care of that dog and fix him so that he never would run after another coon again. I tried to run, but he was so fast he wouldn't fight. Being faster than me, he kept out of my reach, but the minute I tried to run he was at my heels, snapping and making me think he was going to jump on me from behind. So every few minutes I would have to stop and try to make him fight, and all the time his master with the terrible gun kept getting nearer and nearer."

"By and by I saw that the only way I could get rid of them was to go into my house, and so I started for there so fast that that dog didn't have time to do any snapping at my heels. It took all his breath to keep up. Now I was so busy trying to keep an eye on that dog that I forgot all about traps, and yet I knew that there were some set around my home. It was just careless, blunder, foolish carelessness, that led me straight into one of them. Snap! There I was caught by one front leg of course. It hurt, dreadfully, and frightened me more, and I danced around like a mad thing. I was held by a hind leg! Carelessness, nothing but carelessness, that took me away from my old home in the great, wide, wonderful west."

Old Man Coyote sighed, and Sammy said in vain for him to speak again.

CAB HORSE RUNS AWAY; DRIVER'S ARM IS HURT

Much excitement was caused in the neighborhood of the court house at noon Friday when a horse attached to the cab of Tom Johnson, colored, became frightened near the corner of Mitchell street and Pryor street and dashed madly north on Pryor. In front of the court house the cab hit the automobile of Arnold Broyles. The machine was not damaged, but the horse was thrown out, injuring his arm, and the cab tipped loose from the horse. The last seen of the latter was a fall vanishing at record speed across the railroad tracks at the depot.

The Christmas Spirit

AND

"Atlanta-Made" Furniture

There is no more sensible or appropriate gift for the glad Christmas season than a piece of attractive "Atlanta-made" furniture. And if you have selected such a gift—a piece of furniture with the "Atlanta-made" mark on it, you have done at least something toward making the term "Christmas Cheer" a personal reality for Atlanta's working men and their families. Every time you spend a dollar for "Atlanta-made" furniture you have furnished just that much more money for the payrolls of Atlanta's furniture factories. You have helped Atlanta.

Remember, when you buy, Atlanta—your home city; remember, when you buy, Atlanta's manufacturers, the men who have shown their faith in Atlanta by building and equipping expensive plants—and who are spending their money for the maintenance of them; remember, when you buy, the men and women who do the work in Atlanta's factories; and remember, when you buy, that money spent at home STAYS AT HOME.

The J. M. High Company

does not ask you to attend the exhibition and sale of "Atlanta-made" furniture at its store this week from a purely patriotic standpoint, but we have invited you here because we know that in offering this line of "Atlanta-made" furniture we are offering you a line that is as good as any, and superior to most other furniture on the market today.

Special Reduced Prices

on all "Atlanta-made" furniture are in effect at HIGH'S this week, and we will gladly hold any furniture that you may buy for Christmas delivery until December 23. DIVIDED PAYMENTS will be arranged to suit all purchasers, when that is desired. Just ask the salesman. Come tomorrow and make your selections.

Note the articles of "Atlanta-made" furniture in this advertisement. They are worthy.

Sewanee Wins From Vanderbilt in Brilliant Game

Long Runs and Forward Passes Feature Tigers' 14-10-13 Victory Over Commodores—McGugin's Team Shows Lack of Power at Rushing

By Innis Brown

NASHVILLE, Nov. 27.—Sewanee came off victorious Thursday night in the annual football game with Vanderbilt by the narrow margin of one point in a 14-10-13 score. It was the first time the Mountaineers had slipped by a victor since 1910, and the victory proceeded to make amends for the time lost in celebrating. It was Sewanee's day and Sewanee night, too, for that matter, and they were given full credit for the game. The game was most spectacular at times, but it was the Commodore's offense that was the feature. The Commodore's offense was the feature of the game, and it was the Commodore's offense that was the feature of the game.

The game began the spectacular attack after the ball had been put back after two or three plays. Jackets Trim Clemson Amid Much Wrangling

By Dudley Glass

Considered in the foggy gray dawn after a turkey hash breakfast, that Tech-Clemson game wasn't so bad. It had been presented all in one red instead of in serial form. But even if it had been presented in serial form, it would not have been so bad. The game was a good one, and it was a good one.

Thanking Day—At countless boards the home can gather face to face; The circle forms and heart to heart they pledge the kinship of the race; So on the off-trail you and I, old dog, will lift our glasses high; To the Trail that follows an alien track; To the Trail that never carries us back; And then to dream, when the night grows black, a dream that will never die.

Thanking day—well, we, too, know what home meant in the years that were; What the off-trail meant where alien shadows drift and blur; So on the off-trail, man to man we'll pledge with a smiling eye; The Trail that beckoned us with its plea—From home and those we shall never see; And then to dream, as it used to be, a dream that will never die.

All the solid ivory and impenetrable marble in the world isn't located on the ball field. For example there is Prof. Munsterberg, of Harvard—begin day, we forgot we are supposed to be neutral.

Harvard, by having and holding Haughton, makes it 50-50 on the Munsterberg proposition. And you know how valuable Haughton is to Crimson dreams.

The three most interesting years of Yale-Harvard football were from 1900 through 1902. In 1900 Yale beat Harvard 28 to 0; in 1901 Harvard beat Yale 23 to 0, and in 1902 Yale beat Harvard 23 to 0. There was shifting enough here to keep variety going at top speed, working nineteen hours a day.

In the Princeton-Syracuse and in the Yale-Harvard games the ball, while rolling along the ground, was kicked without officials applying the proper ruling. Just how far is an official supposed to go in pushing aside a rule and applying his own idea of what was intended? Either Yale made a safety last Saturday or the ball went to Yale on Harvard's 12-yard line. Yet, as a matter of course fact, neither event came off.

THE MURPHY AFFAIR. While emerging from a bunker on Tuesday John Heydler, the most efficient official in baseball, told us that as far as the National league has any knowledge of the case, Charley Murphy was out of baseball. "Murphy," said Mr. Heydler, "still owns a half interest in the West Side park and he has some friends in the league. But, whatever we think of him, he can't step in and take away this real estate property."

Well, perhaps not. It might not be legal, but it would certainly be a popular move and a big boost for democratic government. In the meanwhile the National league is taking more than a minor chance in permitting Mr. Murphy to stay in with trouble-starting distance, which in his case is about fifty-four miles.

In the meanwhile the National league could accomplish another graceful act by persuading Mr. Taft, of Cincinnati that his proper sphere was far from the coarse influences of baseball. Mr. Taft is not what even the gentlest and would term a heroic addition to the national game. He has troubles enough without having Mr. Taft jammed on its back. We refer here to Mr. Taft, of Cincinnati, not Mr. Taft, of Washington and New Haven.

Just as Yale was accustomed in the grand old days to rise up and murder Harvard annually, so was Penn accustomed to rise up and assault Cornell. Yale has suddenly ceased maltreating Harvard and Penn as suddenly has quit harpooning Cornell. Harvard, Cornell and the Braves should start a new fraternity—O. T. W.—Order of the Turned Worms.

HARVARD AND ILLINOIS. Harvard and Illinois held sway over American football this fall—Harvard in the East and Illinois in the West. Zuppke's eleven crushed all western opposition as effectively as Harvard crushed all eastern rivalry. The two teams are the little or no combatants in the West. We refer here to Mr. Zuppke's germanic militant militarism.

Field Goal Wins For V. P. I. Eleven

FOREIGN HOUSES BUYING CAUSED RISE IN COTTON

Market in New York Closed 2 to 6 Points Higher Than the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—It was the first December notice day in the local cotton market, but according to early estimates not more than 700 bales were issued and after opening steady an advance of 1 point to a decline of 1 point. The market was driven by the news. Houses with foreign connections appeared to have buying orders, while there was a selling pressure in December and May shorts, with prices selling off in the latter half of the month shortly after the call. Heavy exports from New Orleans yesterday helped the market while the small cotton market was a bullish factor on the new month and there was spot house buying of May.

The market continued very steady during the middle of the month and was ruled about 5 to 10 points net higher on further covering and a moderate trade demand. Local brokers said they found it easier to cover the market and suggested that there was a broader market than December was relatively firm during the afternoon on continued demand from shorts and spot interests, with the general list ruling about 6 to 12 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 1.—Reports that German spinners were good buyers of March contracts in the American markets and unexpected demand for the same was the cause of a rise in the cotton futures a firm tone today in the early trading and sent prices 6 to 8 points over Wednesday's close. The weather conditions were considered damaging to cotton still left in the fields.

Large exports gave the market added strength and volume, with a very 9 to 13 points up, new style May showing the widest rise.

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS
Logan & Hyman: The action of the December option, that is for the immediate future, will play a prominent part temporarily, in determining the trend of prices.
 The downward movement of the futures advances there will be plenty of cotton for sale, but every decline brings in a substantial volume of buyers, both for cash and investment account.
S. M. Weld & Co.: We advise purchases and on the scale down.
NEW YORK COTTON LETTER
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The principal feature of the market was the buying of December contracts, May 10.

has said to be selling the distant months. There was also buying of December by Liverpool, and the selling was done in the far-flung light. There was some buying of distant options by brokers who represent continental houses. This has a tendency to strengthen the outside market. The cotton foreign business, the trading seems to be purely local has the public up to this time have shown little interest in the outside market. We must expect a narrow market, though sentiment is growing more favorable to the bull side as the market stubbornly resists a decline.—Anderson.
